Practicing Gratitude can help you step out of your shoes and consider others. Write a thank you note to someone. (If you have an address - we’ll mail it for you!) How do you think they will feel opening their mailbox?
Try it Out!
Try 1-2-3 breathing. Sit in your chair with your feet on the floor and:
1. Tell yourself to relax.
2. Take a deep breath from your belly and feel your breath going up your nose.
3. Let your breath leave your lips as your tummy goes down.
Repeat 4 times
Also try Box breathing:
Inhale through your nose for 4 seconds
Hold your breath for 4 seconds
Let the breath out through your mouth for 4 seconds
Pause for 4 seconds
Repeat 4 times
“Smell the roses, blow out the candles!” (In through your nose, out through your mouth.”

Who inspires you? What virtue do you admire? What was one time you did the “right thing” even when it was hard?
Try it Out!
For one minute, write every answer you can think of (no matter how silly it is) to the following question: What is the ground squirrel thinking?

Share the positive vibes! On the white board, write or draw things that you have experienced within the last week that you find beautiful or extraordinary. If someone has written it already - write it again or give an affirmation (e.g. “Yes!” “Me too!”) Reflection: How does this wall of positivity make you feel?
